Project Profile

This past August marked the 150th Anniversary for Beloit's Fairbanks Morse Defense (FMD) - a vertically integrated, global defense contractor that is recognized as a premier naval engine supplier. Approximately 80% of all U.S. Navy ships are equipped with FMD engines. In addition to manufacturing some of the largest diesel engines in the world, FMD also offers a range of components, fluid and motion-orientated applications for the defense industry. Today, FMD employs more than 450 locally and over 1,200 globally.

Earlier this year, the USS Beloit - a 388 foot littoral combat ship (LCS 29) was christened at the Finantieri Marinette Marine Shipyard. As one of the newest littoral combat ships in the Navy's Freedom Class, the USS Beloit is a multipurpose warship designed to address surface and anti-submarine warfare, as well as mine countermeasures, in near-shore environments.

Retired U.S. Army Major General Marcia Anderson, a native of Beloit, was named as the Navy's sponsor for the USS Beloit. LCS ships provide support to the Navy's Atlantic and Pacific fleets; and the USS Beloit will be based at the Naval Station Mayport in Jacksonville, FL.
